son, and Mrs. Harry Harley, of Boston, sister and sister-in-law of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Riede, of New York, and Captain and Mrs. Carter, of Fort Monroe, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley will leave Washington later today for New York, whence they sail shortly for Europe. Upon their return, they will make their home in Redlands, Cal. Mrs. Harley will wear a gray tulle gown with a coral colored straw hat.

Mrs. Croasley, wife of Commander Croasley, entertained at luncheon yesterday at the Army and Navy Club, in honor of Mrs. Nathan Winship, of Macon, Ga., who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Robert Lee Moncre, at her home in Falls Church, Va. Invited to meet Mrs. Winship were Mrs. Moncre, Mrs. Watts, wife of Admiral Watts; Miss Carrie Barnett, of Eufaula, Ala.; Mrs. M. E. Trench, Mrs. Tullie, of Buffalo, Ala.; and Mrs. Rawle Shoemaker, Mrs. Croasley will leave Friday for New York, making the trip with Mrs. Kaufmann in her automobile, and later will visit Mrs. John W. Falls, at the Marlborough-Blenheim, Atlantic City, N. J., for a week, returning to Washington to close her house. Commander Croasley has been ordered to sea, and Mrs. Croasley will give up her home here, spend the summer at various resorts and sail for Europe in the fall.

Mrs. Edwin T. Pollock was hostess at luncheon today in compliance with the house guest, Miss Murray, of North Carolina. Covers were laid for eight.

The party which was arranged by the Breakfast Club at lunch at the Dover House today has been postponed. The date of the party has not yet been set.

Mrs. Richard Van Wyck Negley, with her two little sons, reached Washington today from her home in Texas to spend the summer with her father and mother, the Postmaster General and Mrs. Burleson. They expect to leave town about the 10th of July for a resort where they will take a cottage, but have not yet decided on the place. Miss Snyder Burleson, youngest daughter of the Postmaster General and Mrs. Burleson, is visiting in Cambridge, Mass., for the closing exercises of Harvard University.

Mrs. Victor Kauffmann has recently returned from a short visit to Atlantic City and is now at her home here. She will leave Friday with her sons for her summer home in New Hampshire, making the trip by motor, and will be joined later by Mr. Kauffmann, who is off on a fishing trip. Mrs. W. S. Croasley will accompany Mrs. Kauffmann as far as New York.

Rear Admiral and Mrs. Willard H. Eronson, who have been abroad for an extended tour, have arrived at Newport, and are established at the Muncie-King Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodbury Blair have leased Sunnyside, at Newport, the cottage belonging to Mrs. Edwin S. Crump, of Philadelphia, for the season.

The Russian Ambassador and Mme. Bakhteff, who have recently established themselves at their cottage in Newport will go to Brooklyn on Friday for the races.

Washington society is interested in the marriage of Miss Marjorie Bruce Stuart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Stuart, of New York, and Charles E. Hughes, Jr., son of Mr. Justice Hughes, of the United States Supreme Court, and Mrs. Hughes, which takes place at 12:30 o'clock today in the chapel of St. Saviour, of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, New York city. Mr. Justice and Mrs. Hughes and their family left Washington several days ago for New York, and Mrs. Hughes will attend the wedding. Mr. Hughes was one of the ushers at the marriage of Miss Jessie Wilson and Mr. Sayre last November, at the White House.

Mr. Justice and Mrs. Hughes will return to Washington tonight, and will leave again Monday for Lake Sunapee, to spend the summer.

Miss Stuart was graduated last week from Vassar, at which time Miss Helen Hughes, sister of the bridegroom, was also graduated. Miss Helen Hughes will be the maid of honor for Miss Stuart.

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Geddes have as their guests former Congressman George W. Prince, Mrs. Prince, and their son Irving, who recently was graduated at Knox College. Mr. Prince was in Congress from Illinois for many years, but is now a resident of Los Angeles, Cal. Before returning West they will visit a son who is at Fort Slocum.

Mrs. Saunders Johnston, of Washington, who gave the memorial fountain to be unveiled by the Daughters of the American Revolution in Chelsea, Mass., today, is a guest of George Z. Dean, in Chelsea.

The American Consul at Amsterdam and Mrs. D. I. Murphy have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Beale E. Atkinson, to Gustav Nordstrom, of Stockholm, Sweden.

Mrs. Alfred E. Bates will go to her cottage at Nonquit, Mass., on Saturday, and will have her daughter, Mrs. Swift, and her family with her during the early part of the season. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Brooke will be with her for the latter part of the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Ray have sent out invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Una Belle, to Waldo Emerson Palmer, on the evening of June 21, at 8 o'clock, at United Brethren Church. A reception will follow the ceremony at 82 W street northwest.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Letts and daughter, Eleanor Letts, of Denver, Col., are at the Hotel Powhatan.

The President attended the performance at Keith's Theater last night. He was accompanied by his cousin, Miss Helen Woodson Bone, and his secretary.

Miss Helen Taft and Miss Martha Bowers have joined Mrs. William H. Taft at New Haven for a week's stay prior to going to Murray Bay, Canada. The former President and Mrs. Taft will open their summer home June 27.

A. A. Packard, of Chicago, Ill., is at the Hotel Powhatan.

Gen. Charles Alexander and his granddaughters, the Misses Emery, will occupy a cottage at Bar Harbor this season. Mrs. Alfred Anson, of England, mother of the Misses Emery, will join them later in the season.

Miss Gladys Ingalls gave a tea yesterday afternoon at the Ingalls villa, at Hot Springs, Va., for the Red Cross supply committee, inviting Miss Louise Smith, woman of art at the Randolph Macon Woman's College, Lynchburg, to speak to the members on decorative art. Among those present were Mrs. Robert Waller and Mrs. Frederick Sterry, of New York.

5 PER CENT RATE RULE EXPECTED SATURDAY

I. C. C. Decision on Freight Advance Asked by Railroads Likely to Be Compromise.

The 5 per cent advance freight rate decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission will be given out, probably, on Saturday afternoon, according to the general impression today. Speculation, having generally taken it for granted that an increase will be allowed, is now attempting to figure out how much it will be. It is generally believed that the 5 per cent horizontal advance asked by the railroads will not be sanctioned by the commission.

The decision, on the whole, probably will be an almost unintelligible mass of figures to all but transportation experts, as it is expected the commission will go into detail specifically stating increases allowed or refused on all commodities and classes.

Abolishment of free services such as car spotting, switching, wharfage, and dockage, and storage, furnished by the railroads to big shippers, is expected to be included in the decision. The commission has already indicated its attitude in this problem by its declaration that allowances by trunk lines to industrial railroads for services are unlawful rebates.

Less optimistic observers believe the commission will give the railroads sufficiently increased revenues to render advanced freight rates unnecessary. The commission may suggest further steps in efficiency and economy to conserve the revenues properly derivable under the present rates.

A 5 per cent increase means to the railroads $60,000,000 a year. The railroads declare that no conservation of revenues would be sufficient to meet the expenses anticipated, and that nothing short of a straight rate advance can save their credit.

Railway Physicians and Surgeons in Convention

Baltimore and Ohio railroad physicians and surgeons from all parts of the system will gather tomorrow at the Raleigh Hotel for a three-day session in the twenty-fifth annual convention of the Railway Physicians and Surgeons.

Many eminent physicians and surgeons are on the program to take part in the discussions and read papers on various topics. Dr. W. C. Rucker, assistant surgeon general of the United States Public Health Service, will discuss sanitation. Injuries about joints will be the subject of Dr. John F. Gordon, of Chicago, an associate of Dr. John B. Murphy. Dr. E. S. Judd, of Rochester, Minn., will read a paper, and Dr. Joseph C. Bloodgood, of Johns Hopkins University, will discuss the treatment of cancer.

Roads Fined $2,100 for Violating 28-Hour Law

Fines of $2,100 against four railroads violating the law prohibiting the confinement of stock for more than twenty-eight hours without unloading for food, water, and rest, have been announced by the Department of Agriculture. The Atlantic Coast and Santa Fe was fined $1,500, with $600 costs, in twelve cases; the receivers of the Kansas City, Mexico, and Orient Railway Company, $300, with $52 costs, and the Chesapeake and Ohio and the receivers of the Frisco road, $300 each, with costs of $15.50 and $15.70, respectively. Fines of $600 against the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern, and of $100 against the St. Louis Southwestern for violating the livestock quarantine law also were announced.

Miss Starr Is Bride.

Miss Ruth Starr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Starr, of Hope, near Easton, Md., and William Soaries Rose, of Brooklyn, N. Y., brother-in-law of Congressman J. Harry Covington, were married yesterday at the bride's home by the Rev. Henry Davies, rector of Christ Church, Easton.

Youthful, Wrinkleless Skin Easy To Have

You who desire to retain a youthful appearance will do well to make the acquaintance of the two simple, but valuable, prescriptions here given.

To make an effective wrinkle remover, mix an ounce of powdered salicylic acid with a half-pint of water. Bathe the face in this solution immediately every morning on waking facial muscles, also, the lotion possessing remarkable astringent and tonic properties.

To get rid of an aged, faded, freckled or discolored complexion, buy an ounce of common mercuric iodine at any drugstore and apply nightly as you would cold cream, erasing this morning with soap and water. This will slowly absorb the undesirable surface skin, revealing the younger, brighter, healthier skin underneath. There is nothing to equal this treatment as a facial rejuvenator.—Adv.

AT THEATERS NEXT WEEK

As its farewell offering for the season at the New National Theater, the Aborn English Grand Opera Company will be heard in two operas the rest of the week. Beginning with "Hansel and Gretel," are the operas chosen to conclude the engagement in the capital. In the first named, Edith Helena will be Santuzza; Messrs. Agostini and Russo will alternate as Turridu; Wilmet, C. Goodwin will be the Alfio; Louise Hausman the Mama Lucia; and Helen Gaynor the Lola. In "Hansel and Gretel" the cast will include Jerome Uhl, Louise Hausman, Mary Carson, Gladys Chandler, and Philip Fein.

With a score of Sunday school plays and other outings scheduled for the next ten days at Glen Echo, the resort promises to be almost as busy a place during the day as it always is during the evenings. All of its half hundred attractions are in operation and with its open-air movies and other free features, the resort offers a decidedly pleasant solution of how to spend the warm evenings in comfort. Sunday afternoon and night there will be another of the series of band concerts, avoiding the weather pests.

To outdoor nature is an accomplishment to which but few could aspire, and yet, in at least one particular, A. E. Thomas has attained this distinction. His "The Rainbow," which will be produced next week by the Columbia Players. A rainbow is still in the zenith of its career, its promise of wealth and fame for author and performers has already been attained. Henry Miller and Ruth Chatterton scored personal triumphs in the piece. Miss Chatterton jumped in a single night from the rank of single in the role of Cynthia. In this part Dorothy Bernard will hold the center of the Columbia stage next week. Mr. Van Buren will have Mr. Miller's old part, and the other members of the company are happily cast.

Two stars of equal vaudeville magnitude will head the bill at the Keith Theater next week. Elizabeth Murray, formerly with "Mime Sherry," and "High Jinks" will be seen. Mr. Van Buren will have Mr. Miller's old part, and the other members of the company are happily cast.

The program for the celebration, as tentatively outlined, will include an address by a member of Congress or other prominent public official, patriotic recitations by school children, musical numbers, athletic contests, and an elaborate display of fireworks. In number, variety, and value, the prizes to be presented to the winners of the various contests will be ahead of anything of the kind previously offered. It is anticipated.

New School Building Is Started at McLain

Work on the foundation of the new $15,000 school building at McLain, Va., is now under way, and a force of men will be active all summer to complete the building for occupancy at the opening of the fall term. The structure will have six rooms and a large assembly room. It is expected to accommodate pupils above the fifth grade from Rixey Station to Great Falls. Brick veneer and hollow tile are to be used in the construction. The building is the same plan as the school at Cherrydale, Va. A. J. Porter is the contractor.

AERO CLUB SANCTIONS AROUND-WORLD RACE

Requires Guarantee of $150,000 Prize Money Offered by Frisco Fair.

NEW YORK, June 17.—The committee of the Aero Club of America today formally sanctioned the proposed around-the-world aerial race to be started from the Panama-Pacific Exposition next May. Permission was granted on condition that a guarantee be offered by a bank of the $150,000 prize money which the exhibition managers have promised.

A series of elimination contests in the 40 aero clubs in eighteen countries affiliated with the International Aeronautics Federation is proposed. Each of these smaller events will offer prizes and the total prize money for the race will probably amount to $1,000,000, according to estimates of aero club officials.

THE FISHERMAN'S GUIDE

Weather Forecast—Fair tonight; Thursday fair, warmer.
Condition of Potomac—Clear.
Wind—Light northerly.
High Tide—3:10 a. m. and 3:42 p. m.
Low Tide—10 a. m. and 10:40 p. m.

There are a number of summer camps established on the Potomac between the Aqueduct bridge and Glen Echo. In spots there are whole colonies of them, white tents and khaki ones, with the inevitable accompaniment of canvas drawn up on the beach, graphophones and ice boxes to give the comforts of home, and swaying hammocks under the trees.

Many of the camps are well made. The framework of 2x4 timbers, the tented roof, and the flies stretched to rustic framework, while extemporized kitchens turn out as delicious a meal as may be desired.

One naturally thinks of fresh fish whenever a camp meal is mentioned. There, in front of the tents, flows the river. Visions of sunrise and rising with the sun, to plunge in the cooling waters, then to catch a fresh breakfast, present themselves to the mind of experience gained from all the current fiction dealing with camps. Sad, but not true, for it is harder to get a camper up in the morning than almost any other brand of cat.

There is a camp, not so far from Glen Echo, where the high cost of living has been co-ordinated with ease. A certain electrical engineer who answers among his friends to the name of "Tubby," possesses this camp. According to the story, vouchered for by one Felix Mahoney, who owns a neighboring camp, the busy mind of the engineer is so engaged in his electrical problems that he feels unable to rustle food to eat. And the story is that he loves fish for breakfast.

One morning a visitor called upon the engineer, while the sun was yet low and as they talked in the tent, where the owner had just laid down a ponderous tome, bristling with omelette, wattle and voice, there came the slightest burr of an electric bell.

"Excuse me a moment," said the engineer, and rushed headlong out to the shore, returning in a moment with a perch which he placed upon the table, reeled in and landed a big Potomac cat.

"What the ——" began the visitor. "S' all right," replied the engineer. "This is simply a little device I rigged up to tell me when I had a fish. You see, I'm so busy that I cannot take the time to sit, and sit and sit, and wait for my breakfast to be caught; time's too valuable, so I rigged this little contact up and there you are."

Next time you see him, ask him if it isn't so?

The following places bear the reputation of being good fishing grounds: (1) "The Parlor," a point above Bolling Rock, straight out from Fletcher's. The water is deep and swift, and the pool bears its name because the fish are known to congregate there. (2) Middle Rock, above the Chain Bridge. It is well to arrange to have a boat taken up on the flood tide, as it is impossible to make headway against an ebb tide. (3) "The Hens and Chickens," off the point of the powerhouse near Fletcher's; water 40 to 50 feet deep and very swift. Care must be exercised. (4) Near the "Ladder," at the Chain Bridge, opposite the branch on the Virginia side, (5) Opposite the point of Annapolis Island, along the bend of the river. Water about 30 feet deep. (6) Near the Thurston steel plant, at junction of Potomac and Eastern Branch. (7) The Dyke, between Alexandria and Mt. Vernon. Boats may be obtained near car station. (8) Occoquan, above the bridge.

To Have Pretty Hair

If your hair is not as soft and pretty, or as fresh and full as that of some friend, do as she does—give it daily attention, just the same care you would give a plant to make it healthy and beautiful. Luxuriant hair—soft, fluffy, thick and lustrous—is really a matter of care. If it is too thin, make it grow. If it is too dry and brittle, soften it up—lubricate it. If you have dandruff it is because the scalp is too dry and flakes off. Freshen up the scalp and the dandruff disappears.

Parian is an inexpensive tonic, which you can get from any drug or toilet counter, or from O'Donnell's Drug store, in just what you need—it softens the scalp, nourishes the hair roots, immediately removes dandruff, and makes the hair fluffy, lustrous and abundant. One application will stop itching heads and cleanse the hair of dust and excessive oil. Parian Sage takes away the dryness and brittleness, makes the hair twice as abundant and beautifies it until it is soft and lustrous.

By the use of this helpful tonic any woman can easily make her hair soft, fluffy and abundant. Pretty hair will surely increase her charm and beauty.—Adv.
